

Children & Adolescents Course

Days: 2

Price: AUD$400 + GST

- A two day training workshop.
- Children and adolescents have different developmental capacities requiring us to modify our use of IDT.
- The course maps the key developmental stages of the young person to provide guidelines for interventions.
- One of IDT's principles is to 'be where the client is'. This includes meeting their psychological age.
- Learn to work collaboratively, developing the page with the client.
- Develop your advocacy skills further using the page for the young person.
- Learn to recognise when the psyche retreats to an earlier developmental phase (regression) and how to work with it.
- Increase your awareness of transference and counter-transference in the working relationship.
- This workshop is valuable to not only those who work with young people. All clients have the capability to regress to an earlier developmental phase.
- Must have completed Foundation Course.
